

Mountain Trip Packing List

Pack light! And bring your 2 or 3 questions you're taking to the mountain. We're all getting out of our comfort zones and heading to God's creation.

Your Packing List

You'll need everything on it and NOTHING not on it. You're going to carry all of this plus your share of food up steep terrain to nearly 14,000 feet. Less is more. Men. Less is more. Trust me. Clothes are weather specific. It is better to bring layers of warm clothes and not need them than to not have them and it will be cold, especially at night. It is fine to hike and rappel in shorts, but you may get a few scratches. There should NOT be any COTTON in your bags.

- Travel clothes for trip up
- 2 pair hiking pants/shorts
- 2 athletic/performance shirts NON cotton, (driwear, tech shirt, Under Armor type)
- Bible, Pen & Journal
- Bedroll to sleep on
- Towel
- Toiletries (toothbrush, toothpaste, soap, shampoo, ect.)
- Sunscreen
- 2 Large water bottles- a liter size Aquafina type bottle is fine, something that holds water and can be refilled, Camelbacks are recommended. Must have capacity for ½ Gallon of water
- Rain gear (Waterproof, breathable, hardshell 2 piece suit similar to Marmot Precip or Red Ledge Thunderlight).
- A warm but lite weight coat fleece pullover or zipup for evenings ( it will be cold)
- Sturdy pair of mid-weight hiking boots.
- Base layer (long johns) not cotton
- Wool hiking socks 2 pair, and nylon liner socks 2 pair.
- Bug Spray
- Reusable cup or mug
- Sandals/flip flops for wearing around camp
- 3 or 4 gallon size ziplock baggies
- Sunglasses
- Leather or full finger gloves for rappelling
